Italy Given Tripoli and Libya Without Reservation—Protection for Christians On Aegean Islands

CEYITINJE, Oct. 15.—General Martini's army, it is reported, has retired across the Boyana river in Albania, leaving only a small body of troops in the neighborhood of Tarabosh.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 15.—The Ottoman government decided today to recall the Turkish ministers from Athens, Sofia and Belgrade.

OUCHI, Switzerland, Oct. 15.—After months of diplomatic strife for better terms, Turkey surrendered this evening and the Ottoman and Italian plenipotentiaries signed the protocol of a peace treaty which ends the war between Italy and Turkey, and incidentally relieves the Ottoman empire for a crushing handicap in the forthcoming struggle in the Balkans. The precise terms will not be available until a definitive treaty is signed at the end of the week, probably at Lausanne. The terms, however, are well known. The treaty will provide for absolute sovereignty of Italy in Libya without formal recognition there of Italy by Turkey; free exercise of religious authority by the Khalif; Turkey to withdraw her regular troops from Libya; Italy to pay an indemnity equivalent to Libya's contribution to the Ottoman empire.

FIGHT FOR LIFE IN GOLDEN GATE

Eight Men Have Narrow Escape in Handling Boat

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Eight members of the Golden Gate life-saving crew fought for their lives in the surf today while a crowd of several hundred persons stood on the shore and applauded and cheered, supposing they were witnessing the usual boat drill. The boat was lost and carried out to sea after it had been capsized three times. Captain Nelson took the boat with three men and four volunteers. When they were about 300 yards from the shore a comb in the outer line of breakers upended the boat and spilled the crew into the water. The crowd cheered as the men fought their way back through the breakers to the side of the drifting boat and righted it and clambered in. The undertow by this time had carried the boat into a dangerous swirl and it was again overturned. An instant later a huge wave caught it and heeled it among the breakers, struggling in the water. Captain Nelson was struck and stunned. He was rescued by Captain Nelson, who swam with him to the boat, which again was righted. The crew again returned. The crew again returned.

ATLANTIC FLEET STEAMS TO SEA

Column of 123 Vessels is Reviewed by President Taft

New York, Oct. 15.—The Atlantic fleet steamed out to sea this afternoon from the superdreadnaughts Arkansas and Wyoming to the smallest submarine, the 123 war vessels passed in review before President Taft. The column was fifteen miles long and was moving two hours in passing. Secretary of the Navy Meyer stood with the President on the bridge watching the long line moved past. Flying the flag of Rear Admiral Osterhaus, the fleet commander, the Connecticut led the way with the Arkansas following. The Wyoming towed 500 yards behind the Arkansas and with the same space between them came the rest of the fleet—two battleships and the division of cruisers. When abreast the Mayflower, the Connecticut fired a six-pounder. The was the first gun of the long presidential salute. Tens of thousands of persons blackened the shore lines of the Hudson as the fleet steamed out. An other army viewed the magnificent fleet from down town skyscrapers. Other thousands were aboard a fleet of excursion steamers. One accident marked the review when the torpedo boat Craven bumped against a lighter. She was damaged but slightly.

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 15.—A Swiss airplane named Hippert was killed near Neuchâtel today when the machine fell from a height of eighty feet.

MOTORMAN KILLS STREET CAR BANDIT

Conductor on Oakland Line Has One of His Fingers Shot Off

OAKLAND, Oct. 15.—An unidentified bandit, wearing a false mustache and wig, was shot and fatally killed here tonight by Motorman T. J. Hegger, after he had attempted to rob the conductor of a Grant avenue car. V. E. Meeker, the conductor, battled with the bandit and suffered the loss of the middle finger of his right hand, which was shot off. The car had reached the end of the line, and Meeker was outside the car, leaning from the shadow in the rear of the car and seized the change box at the conductor's belt. Hegger was at the other end of the car, running the belt, and did not know of the attack until he heard the shot. As he ran around the end of the car, the bandit was coming toward him and fired two shots, both of which missed. Hegger had his revolver in his hand and shot the bandit through the head as he ran.

STEAMERS COLLIDE; SCHOONER CAPSIZES

Twenty Men Narrowly Escape Death and Two Are Injured

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Two men were injured and eighteen others narrowly escaped when the steamer schooner Argyle was crushed in a collision with the oil tanker Arcturion, eighty miles north of San Francisco early today. The Argyle arrived here today with sixteen of the Guadalupe's crew, including Martin Lata and Alak Abrahamson, the injured seamen. Both will recover. The Argyle sailed from San Francisco for Seattle. The Guadalupe, which was en route to this city, about the same time, the tanker was going about 5 knots an hour and the Argyle 12, when the two vessels struck in the fog shortly before day broke. The steel bow of the Argyle cut into the port quarter of the wooden hull of the Guadalupe and smashed the forecastle, in which nine of the crew were sleeping. As the Argyle backed away the sea rushed through the hole and the Guadalupe filled rapidly and began to list. The crew in the forecastle had barely time to clamber over, dragging the two injured ones up the ladder when the vessel turned over. Boats immediately were lowered from the Argyle and within eight minutes every man had been taken off in safety. It was impossible to bring the life boat close enough for Lata, whose leg was broken, to enter and he drifted into the sea, after shouting to the boat crew to be ready to pick him up. He was unconscious when taken aboard the Argyle. The wreckage of the oil tanker was set to work and within an hour the steamer Daisy Freeman and Elfield stood by. The derelict was taken in tow by the former and the Argyle proceeded to San Francisco. The Daisy Freeman and the Guadalupe which is loaded with lumber, are expected to reach here early tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—From the State Department at Washington word today that China had accepted an invitation to participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition, making the thirtieth foreign nation thus far to accept.

JOHNSON CALLS FOR REDOUBLED FIGHTING FOR PROGRESSIVISM

CANTON, Oct. 15.—Governor Johnson of California in a speech here tonight pleaded with Progressives to redouble their efforts in behalf of the new party in order that the absence of Colonel Roosevelt may not be felt so keenly. When Colonel Roosevelt's name was mentioned, the great crowd rose and cheered wildly. "It matters not where you go, into the mountains of Wyoming, over the plains of Kansas and Nebraska, or far up into the New Hampshire hills, everywhere the same old progressive spirit is to be found these days," he said. "It is that great American spirit which forgets itself for a brief period in order to do something for humankind. It is the finest thing about this whole movement. "Now is the time for effort. It is demanded of every man and every woman whose heart is in this cause. For our leader has been stricken down. It is essential that everyone shield himself for the fray. A double duty is ours with the man who has been stricken down bravely, the man who with nerve such as never before has been seen in a human body in this land, who has fought with his bosom bleeding, delivered his message to the people of Milwaukee. He no longer has heart to fight. You must take it up. I appeal to every one who has his heart in this glorious cause to do his share."

SOCIALIST MAYOR AND TWO OTHERS THROWN IN JAIL

(Special to the Republican.)
UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Mayor George R. Lunn, Socialist executive of City of Schenectady; Charles A. Mullen, his commissioner of public works, and Rev. Robert A. Bakeman, formerly a member of Mayor Lunn's cabinet, were arrested in Little Falls this afternoon for violation of the local ordinance which prohibits loitering on the streets, and for four hours the three men were locked up at the Little Falls police headquarters. Late this afternoon the prisoners were arraigned in the municipal court and all three dominated immediate trial. Subsequently Mayor Lunn was placed on trial but at 6:30 o'clock tonight the case being unfinished, the Schenectady executive and his two companions were permitted their liberty on their own recognizance until tomorrow morning, when Mayor Lunn's trial will be resumed. The arrest of Mayor Lunn, Mullen and Bakeman followed an attempt by them to address a large crowd of foreigners until recently employed at the Phoenix knitting mills in Little Falls, but who a few days ago went out on strike.

BEEES BREAK UP SCHOOL; 1 VICTIM SERIOUSLY STUNG

(Special to the Republican.)
SANTA MONICA, CAL., Oct. 15.—An immense swarm of bees, estimated at millions, which had for years occupied large hollows in the walls of the Jefferson grammar school undisturbed, became excited today, crowded into the school and routed the pupils and teachers. J. M. Loman, an expert, was called to remove the bees from the building and was stung nearly to death. He is in bed in a serious condition. Superintendent of Schools H. M. Hobek was stung on the ears and nose but did not get hurt. He fled to his office at the school and slept with his pupils and teachers. Bees broke open the walls, comb six feet long were found inside, and forty pounds of fine honey was removed and most of it given to the children.

HIS SWEETHEART DIED IN TRAGEDY

Schrank's Name Now Connected With Burning of Excursion Steamer

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Eight years ago Schrank's name appeared in the papers here in a connection quite different from that in which it figures today. At the headquarters of the General Steam Survivors Association he was recalled as the youth who on June 16, 1904, identified the body of his sweetheart, who was one of the thousands of more who died when the steamer General Slocum was burned to the East river. More than one man lost his mind after witnessing the dreadful scene that followed this holocaust. Schrank's sweetheart was Emily Zeigler, a 19 year old German girl who lived in the tenement house where Schrank had his bachelor lodging. Efforts to learn more about Schrank through surviving members of the Zeigler family have been fruitless. Investigation into Schrank's movements here resulted late tonight in the discovery of a valise containing property deeds and mortgages, and a number of letters addressed to him.

WILSON CANCELS ENGAGEMENTS AFTER THIS FRIDAY

Will Not Resume Speech-making Until Roosevelt Re-enters Campaign

NOT FIGHTING TAFT

Thinks It Impossible to Prevent Maniacal Attacks on Public Men

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 15.—Governor Woodrow Wilson late tonight announced that he would cancel his speaking engagements, with the exception of those arranged for Thursday and Friday of this week until Colonel Roosevelt is able to take an active part in the campaign. The governor will speak in Delaware, West Virginia and Pennsylvania this week, concluding his campaign in Pittsburgh Friday night. "I cannot cancel engagements immediately ahead of me," Governor Wilson said in a statement tonight, "without subjecting those who have arranged them to serious embarrassment and great unnecessary expense, but I shall cut the series at the earliest possible point. "Mr. Taft has at no time taken an active part in the campaign and I have no desire to be the single candidate on the stump engaged with no active antagonist. "Governor Wilson was asked if his active presence would end on his return Saturday from Delaware, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. "Yes," he said, "I have asked my managers to arrange to cancel the engagements in New York and Brooklyn for next Saturday night. "The governor was cautious of news of Colonel Roosevelt and asked the officials to keep him informed. He received news about Colonel Roosevelt's condition as late as 11 p. m. When asked if he would take extra precautions when appearing in public hereafter, Wilson said he would not. "The fact is that I am not dependent," he declared, "to guard against such attacks. It seems to me the police and secret service guards are useless if a madman determines to attack a man in public life."

TAFT EXPRESSES HORROR OF CRIME

All Good Citizens Should Unite to Condemn Vicious Doctrines

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—President Taft issued a statement on board the Mayflower this afternoon relative to the shooting of Colonel Roosevelt. "I cannot withhold an expression of horror," he said, "at the act of the maniac who attempted to assassinate Colonel Roosevelt. "When I heard of this crime, my regret last night," the President's statement continued, "I had been informed that Colonel Roosevelt was then speaking and had escaped injury. The news this morning, however, is of a more serious character. I feel the deepest sympathy for Mr. Roosevelt, and his family and I pray that the wound may prove to be only a flesh wound and that, as the surgeons predict, there may be no complications. "This assault, following the shooting of Major Gaynor two years ago and the assassination of three out of the nine Presidents elected by our people, is an event that must cause reflections by all Americans upon conditions that make it possible that such dastardly deeds may occur in a country affording to its citizens such complete advantages of civil liberty. "It is not contrary to the manifestly intended purpose of the constitution, the purpose of the government of the laws against the carrying of concealed weapons and the more rigorous and certain prosecution of all such attempted crimes, whether against prominent or obscure persons, to make the course of the citizen of the country a more secure one. nothing besides that. Just independent. No sir, I don't belong to any particular party. I'm independent, that's what I am.

Tonight's Attorney Zabel made a statement in which he said there existed no grounds for reports that Schrank was or had been a socialist, or a reader of socialist literature.

The man is unimpaired on social, as I have ascertained in my examination of him and the public prosecutor. I am afraid that because his shooting happened in Milwaukee, instead of Chicago or any other of a dozen cities, many persons will jump to the conclusion that it was the outgrowth or indirect result of socialist propaganda. Nothing would be further from the truth.

This man knew no one in Milwaukee, and as far as we can ascertain, is unfamiliar with any of the active or leading socialists in New York. This unfortunate crime cannot be justly laid at the door of the Socialists, or of any one political party.

Robert Haskel, secretary of the Milwaukee police department, sent copies of Schrank's detention measurements and the prisoner's finger prints to the police bureau of identification at Chicago, San Francisco and Washington in an effort to open up a possible new channel of information regarding the man.

worth arrived in Chicago from Cincinnati this evening and tonight he will be at the Hotel Roosevelt, at 1000 Broadway. He traveled alone and was met at the station by Mrs. Medill McCormick, who accompanied her to the hospital.

Mrs. Longworth met Elbert E. Martin, who saved her father from further attack by the Milwaukee assassin, and thanked him for his effort.

"It was a very wonderful thing to do," she said. "I am very proud of you. You could not have had much time to decide, and you took a great risk in doing what you did. I am grateful to you as one possibly can be."

SORRY HE SHOT

Just before he lay down to sleep in his cell tonight, Schrank expressed the first words of regret that he has uttered since the shooting.

"I'm sorry I shot," he said as a deputy sheriff was locking him up.

Then Schrank dropped down on his cot and within half an hour was asleep. "Just like a kid," as the jail attendants expressed it.

The men who are watching Schrank were surprised by two things—that he pronounced at the time asked to see a newspaper and that he made no inquiry regarding Colonel Roosevelt's condition.

So far as the jail attendants know, Schrank tonight was not informed as to whether Colonel Roosevelt was dead or alive. He had exhibited no interest in this point. His terse remark was not made in reply to any interrogation from the deputy, but was repeated several times apparently in soliloquy.

SCHRANK'S CONFESSION.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 15.—The police tonight completed the work of transcribing the confession of John Schrank, giving to Chief of Police Janssen last night. The detailed confession follows:

Q.—What object did you have in following around and trying to murder Theodore Roosevelt?

A.—Well, because I have been reading history and following up history. I have seen that this man Roosevelt is trying to break one of the old time established traditions of the country, calling it a third term, which he has no right to. He can create a third party and create all the offices but to nominate himself, and I think that it is absolutely unnecessary to establish now and have a third term tradition to exist and not be violated by anybody.

Q.—What did you have in mind to do when you went around in these different places?

A.—I had in mind to murder him, and he escaped me every time. He escaped me in Atlanta and Chattanooga.

Q.—He escaped what?

A.—To have not come the way I expected, he did not come out the way I expected. If he goes in a hall today and speaks in a hall and he comes in this way or that way, he goes out a different way and the men get away.

Q.—What did he escape from?

A.—From the places I wanted to meet him.

Q.—Why did you want to meet him?

A.—Because I wanted to put him out of the way; a man that wants a third term has no right to live.

Q.—Is he, you wanted to kill him?

A.—I did.

Q.—Have you any other reason in wanting to kill him?

A.—I have.

Q.—What is that?

A.—I had a dream several years ago in which Mr. McKinley appeared to me and told me that Mr. Roosevelt was practically his real murderer and not Crozier, or whatever his name was. Mr. Roosevelt is practically the real murderer of President McKinley in order to get the presidency of the United States because the way things were at that time, he was not supposed to be President, all the leaders did not want him; that is the reason they gave him the vice-presidency, which is political suicide; that's what I am sore about, to think Mr. McKinley appeared to me in a dream and said: "This is my murderer and nobody else."

Q.—Did you speak with anybody in New York about this before you left?

A.—No sir.

Q.—You made your mind up to this all yourself?

A.—Yes, because I am alone, although I own property in New York.

Q.—What property?

A.—I own property at 493 East Eighty-first street.

Q.—What does it consist of?

A.—It consists of an apartment house with ten tenants; it is estimated at $25,000.

Q.—Did you attend any political meetings in New York before you left?

A.—I attended several, yes, sir, ever since the reason for my coming here had political meetings in Evansville, Ind., of the three political parties.

Q.—Who furnished you with funds that you needed to travel around the country?

A.—I beg your pardon, I was just telling you I have property there and had the money."

"Did you ever meet Crozier or know him in his lifetime?"

"No sir, no sir. How could I, I have been all that time since I have been here in New York."

"Did you know John Most, when he was here?"

"No sir."

"Did you ever hear him talk?"

"No sir."

"Did you ever hear Emma Goldman?"

"No sir. I am not an anarchist or Socialist or Democrat or Republican. I just took up the thing I thought it was best to do."

"You are not a member of any party?"

"No sir. I thought there should be an example of the third term if it should exist any longer. Mr. Grant was refused and he was satisfied. This man was refused and he is not satisfied. It's gone beyond limits. If he keeps on doing this after election he can't possibly carry a solid Western state. The next thing we will have a civil war because he will steal my nomination and now they will steal my election, and they will take up arms in all the Western states. We are facing a civil war just to keep him in a third term in an illegitimate place."

"Where did you get all this idea from?"

"I have been reading history all the time."

"You don't find anywhere in history that they stole his nomination and are going to steal his election?"

"I don't have to read that in history. You must know by the Chicago convention it was in every paper, everybody could read it."

"You read it in the papers then?"

"He says it every time he speaks."

ROOSEVELT'S WOUND

SERIOUS; MAY PROBE FOR BULLET TODAY

"Don't lose my place, doctor; don't lose my place."

He referred to a book of Macanley's essays he had been reading, which the physician had laid to one side.

He asked seriously how his wound looked and leaned his head forward from his half-sitting posture and surveyed it himself.

"That doesn't look bad, doctor," he said. "What do you think?"

"That as it is, doesn't bother us," responded Dr. Murphy. "It's what you do to it." Dr. Murphy explained that the doctors felt that he had better rest and see no one, so as to avoid possibility of a setback.

Colonel Roosevelt was disappointed, but the examination being over and a pint of buttermilk having been ordered, he reached again for his books and smiled. "All right."

An hour's sleep brought his good spirits to flood him. "If I must stay here, I suppose I might as well make the best of it," he said.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Wilson tonight sent to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt at Mercy Hospital in Chicago this telegram:

BECKER'S LINE OF DEFENSE SHOWN

Will Claim That Rosenthal Was Killed By Other Gamblers

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Gamblers and not Police Lieutenant Becker investigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal, according to the line of defense indicated by counsel for the accused officer at today's session of his trial.

A large sum of money raised by gamblers was paid to get Rosenthal out of New York when he began to "sneak" on the subject of police protection and when he took the money, and then refused to go, the gamblers, threatened with the loss of their protection, plotted and executed his murder through the agency of four gunmen.

This was the outline of the defense supplied in questions put by John F. McIntyre, Becker's counsel, to Sam Schepps on the witness stand.

Schepps was not given an opportunity to say whether he had knowledge that such was the origin of the murder plot, for Justice Goff excluded the questions. The witness spent practically the entire day on the stand corroborating the testimony of Jack Rose, Bridget Webber and Harry Vallon, the trio of confessed accomplices who accuse Becker of having inspired the murder.

Schepps added another link to the chain of evidence against the defendant by swearing that Becker had asked him if the summer had been paid for the work, he also received that he had been the bearer of a reassuring message from Becker to Jack Rose when the latter was in hiding "ready to commit suicide" at the home of Harry Pollok.

Schepps' part in the plot was that of messenger for Rose in rounding up the gunmen, but he denied that he knew the killing of Rosenthal was on foot. He did not fully comprehend, he said, until Jack Rose had made a "clean breast of it" to him, and then "on the advice of counsel" he got out of town.

Becker's attorney tried repeatedly to make Schepps admit he had not been an accomplice in the crime, but the witness appeared always with a ready explanation for the part he had taken.

Under cross-examination Schepps admitted that he had been engaged for a short time in smuggling opium from Canada into Portland, Ore.

Becker's defense is to divide the plot into three groups.

"The first is to include Vancouver, Seattle, Wash., and the Puget Sound ports, the second is to be at San Francisco and the third we hope eventually to locate in southern California."

The South Pacific coast is very indefinable at present. Your assurance of protection in the event of invasion by a hostile power is very much "No, to improve this situation, one of two things must be done. Either we must increase the army or we must get more naval stations. We don't want to ask Congress to increase the army."

BETTER DEFENSE FOR COAST IS WANTED

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 15.—Speaking at a banquet in his honor tendered last night by the Portland chamber of commerce, Major General Leonard A. Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, told his hearers to disabuse themselves of the idea that there is any plan on foot to build up in this country a great military power.

"We are only trying to bring about our own protection," General Wood said.

The defense of the Pacific coast is to be divided into three groups," he said. "The first is to include Vancouver, Seattle, Wash., and the Puget Sound ports, the second is to be at San Francisco and the third we hope eventually to locate in southern California."

The South Pacific coast is very indefinable at present. WARNS AGAINST RADICAL POLITICS

Secretary Knox Admits Rights of Property Have Been Over-emphasized

PORTLAND, Oct. 15.—Secretary Knox addressed an audience here tonight which thronged the county armory, taking for his subject the just equilibrium between the rights of man and the rights of property.

The secretary declared that since the dawn of civilization the rights of property have been emphasized, but he warned against radicalism in the process of readjustment. He impressed upon his hearers the progress toward accomplishing this equilibrium under the administration of President Taft, reviewing at length the accomplishments of Taft to that end.

HAWSON IN RE SELF

"We regard the legislative race as of prime importance," says Henry H. Hawson, Democratic candidate for the legislature from the Fresno city district, in his editorial column in the Evening Herald. No doubt Mr. Hawson states with accuracy his sentiments on the contest in which he is himself engaged. He must indeed regard his own candidacy as of "prime importance."

For that matter, so do we; though in the opposite sense. Of all the local contests now before the people of Fresno county, the one of unquestionable "prime importance," is the legislative race. But the thing of prime importance to do in that race is to elect, not Mr. Hawson and his more or less unknown Democratic colleagues in the other two districts, but precisely the candidates, Messrs. Sutherland, Chandler and Carey, against whom he inveighs.

Editor Hawson makes only one argument against these three opponents of the three votes he hopes to cast in the next legislature. That argument is that they are not for Taft. But as Mr. Hawson et al. ("all" being his two running mates) are not for Taft either, honors appear even on that score.

The appeal is of course an indirect effort on the part of Editor Hawson to inveigle Taft Republicans into voting for himself. The appeal would not go far, even if it were frankly made, and it can not even get a start on the transparent misstatements of Mr. Hawson's editorial. For instance, he states that Taft Republicans who signed the nomination papers of his Republican opponent, "rightfully believed at the time of signing that the nominees would in state convention support the nominees of the Republican party," whom the editorial, in the same paragraph, defines as "the candidates of the Republican party, Taft and Sherman." Of course Mr. Hawson knows that they understood nothing of the sort. Messrs. Chandler, Sutherland and Carey publicly announced, at the very beginning of their candidacies, that they would support the Roosevelt electors, and they all three received unanimous nominations on that express understanding. Some Taft Republicans in Fresno city signed a nominating petition, with this fact already understood, and one of these signers, Frank H. Short, head of the Taft organization in Fresno, publicly advised against running any Taft candidates against these Roosevelt candidates, on the ground that the Taft men had no one to bring forward whom they could say they preferred as legislators, or regarded as more competent as legislators than these candidates. No candidates in fact were brought out against them, and they all three secured unanimous nominations. Mr. Short regretted that the legislative nominees had the double function of acting as convention delegates and of running for the legislature but in view of their conceded fitness for the latter function he did not think it worth while to run any one against them for the former function. His advice was taken, and there were no opposition candidates. The Taft people thus acquiesced in the three nominations, at the time when the vote in the convention was an active issue, and it was known exactly what the three Roosevelt candidates would do. If they acquiesced then, when the question was still in the future and was in process of determination, certainly they would have no occasion for retaliatory boiling now, when it is already past and finished.

The fact is, the effort of Mr. Hawson, by indirect appeal, to seduce Republican votes to the support of his Democratic candidacy, is neither frank nor important. He does not dare to make the appeal openly; he could not get these votes if he did; and he would not be elected if he got them. The three Republican candidates for the Assembly are pre-eminently entitled to support, even aside from the ticket they are running on. Mr. Chandler is the veteran leader of the assembly, easily its most respected and trusted member. Mr. Sutherland, in one term, has made so brilliant a record that it is almost certain that he will be the next speaker. Mr. Carey is a new man, who, on his public appearances so far, has demonstrated presence of mind, force, and qualities of leadership that will make him at once a marked man in the legislature. All three are committed to the continuance and completion of the policies of the Johnson administration. Chandler and Sutherland have already had large parts in the development of those policies in the legislature, and Carey has been an outspoken supporter of them outside. If Johnson continues as governor, and still more if he does not, a legislature loyal to the great precedent established by the last legislature is the one supreme need of California. Here are three candidates who will contribute, not merely votes, but cooperated leadership to that legislature. Mr. Hawson, to judge by his present editorials, would contribute nothing but petty opposition policies. It is unthinkable that this community should for an instant contemplate such a change. In fact, it does not. Mr. Hawson is merely basing his appeal on his assumption that there are more prejudiced souls in Fresno than there are. The appeal will get nowhere and reach nobody. But this is just to put the question on its feet for good measure.

FACING THREE WAYS

The present flareup in the Balkans affords a good opportunity for Americans to observe a number of conflicting tendencies in the minds of those of our newer citizens who have come from the countries affected. There are within our borders hundreds of thousands of people from the south-east of Europe. These include great communities of Servians, Greeks, and people of Serbian blood from Bosnia, Herzegovina, Croatia and other dependencies of Austria. There are fewer but numerous immigrants from Montenegro, Bulgaria, Turkey and Roumania.

We are informed that in many cities of the United States, associations of these people have been formed, especially among the Greeks, to encourage and support the present uprising of the Christians of the Balkans against the Turks. Incidentally there have been reports of plans by Croats to further a revolutionary movement against Austria, with a view to the union under one government of all the Slavs of southeastern Europe.

The interesting thing is not that many of these people are still sufficiently interested in their old home to contribute money and even to return to fight in the armies against Turkey, but rather the fact that so many of them, on the other hand, are entirely indifferent to the whole question. For centuries these people have lived in a state of political and often of economic servitude to the Turks. They still feel strong sympathy for those of their coreligionists who live in Turkey. Their new governments are old enough to have fostered a feeling of loyalty. Immigration to this country has usually been for the purpose of escaping conscription into the Austrian army or in answer to the lure of greater prosperity in this country.

As against the love of fatherland and hatred of the Turks, we have among these people two new sentiments arising, the one a strong feeling of loyalty for their adopted country, a feeling which for the most part is very strong among these immigrants from the Balkans. On the other hand, there is the attitude fostered by the socialists of indifference to or hatred of all governments and sentiments of nationality. It tends to blot out all patriotism. In the very chill of indifference to the virtues of a newer patriotism, it produces an indifference to the past sufferings of family and race at the hands of the Turks. The impulse to acknowledge the brotherhood of the Turks in the human family sometimes may cause forgetfulness of what the Turks were and are still, in their political relation to Europe.

A study of our Slavic citizens presents an interesting problem of facing three-ways, towards native land, toward adoptive country, and toward an idealist world community in which "slave and sultan is forgot and peace to Mahmud on his golden throne." However, it appears that the strongest of these among the practical Slavonian people, is love of their new country where freedom and opportunity are a living reality.

BETTER LIVING

A field of psychological inquiry that has been, but barely entered upon is that of stimulus. Just what can or should be accomplished by means of selected stimuli, or with certain stimuli in view. We are all agreed that purpose should be the objective point, but the fact is that purpose governs but a small share of our lives, and it is very questionable whether mankind as a whole will ever be very much interested in purpose. Hitching wagons to a star is good for every tenth man, and for the world as built up by these one-tenth of humanity, but what about the rest of us?

To the great nine-tenths, stimulus is the be-all and end-all of life. With some, it is so crude as to be just beer and skittles. But the most of us are beyond mere alcoholism, except on holidays and state occasions when the wife has gone to the country. We are too neurotic to permit mere indolence to be the sensation to be tickled. We find ourselves to be too intelligent to be lulled by the hopes of a sensual paradise, and as for the pains of hell, well, Lucifer is too jolly a person to come from a torrid climate.

We are, then, raised above the brutish beasts in our ways and varieties of sensualism, but we respond, after all to much the same stimuli. How then, shall we determine what is best, in our new environment—with a new world which science has unfolded to us, with minds formed by new knowledge and bodies which at least have new nerves if not new bones and muscles? Is there not to be a new soul with those?

There is a widespread cult which would answer this question by taking us back to nature. But what does nature know of these new conditions? The answer must come out of our newer, better life—it must come from men, as newly built up, and it must be something better than mere living, for we have always been living from the time of the cave-man.

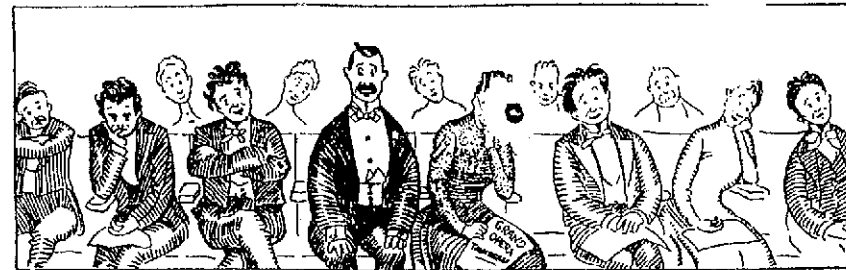

According to Mrs. Atherton, there is nothing to the Progressive party but Theodore Roosevelt. According to the same clever lady, Roosevelt is not a Progressive. Which eliminates the whole movement from the political arena with two puffs of her dainty cigarette.

CAN WOODROW WILSON OVERCOME THE HOODOO OF SPRECKELS' SUPPORT?

What has Woodrow Wilson done to merit this blow?

John D. Spreckels and the Call have declared for him. Governor Wilson has said that thirteen is his lucky number; but there are some hoodoos that cannot be overcome.

To be supported by John D. Spreckels and the Call is to be predestined to defeat.

Alas, poor Wilson; he deserved a better fate!

Are what do the progressive Democrats say now, in view of these latest recruits to the Wilson supporters?

The progressive Democrats who have stayed by Wilson and refused to go over to Roosevelt have defended their position by the argument that Wilson is as good a Progressive as Roosevelt.

But if that be the case, why are the reactionaries deserting Taft and getting behind Wilson?

They are deserting Taft, of course, because he cannot win. But why do they prefer Wilson to Roosevelt?

At New Haven one week ago Governor Wilson, while seeking votes, made the following statement:

"If there is not a right on the part of workmen to organize, then there ought not to be a right on the part of capital to organize."

At Princeton university in 1909 Governor Wilson, at that time not a candidate for office, made the following statement:

"The tendency of the modern labor union is to give employers as little labor as possible for the amount they receive. I need not point out how completely disastrous such regulation of labor is. It is an unprofitable to the employer that in some trades it will presently not be worth while to attempt anything at all. Our economic supremacy will be lost because the country grows poorer and more full of unprofitable services."

If it were not for these two statements, it would be hard to believe that Governor Wilson was "timid" in order to get votes.

—San Bernardino Index.

Little as possible in the hope that the reactionaries would think he was conservative and the radicals would think he was radical. He is now in difficulties.

Johnston has demanded that Wilson make plain to the American people on which of his statements regarding labor unions he is to be judged.

WAS NOT

Killed

AS STATED BY THE "PRESS."

Since returning from my summer vacation a number of people have teased me with such remarks as these: "I hear you were killed, did you buy a new machine to take the place of the one wrecked?" etc., etc. To save the time taken up by answering such questions, let me say that I have never as yet been in an auto wreck, and as I am very much alive as I write this article, it is sufficient proof that I have not been killed even once. I have never run into anyone with my auto, neither have any of my chauffeurs.

Charley Fair owned the first automobile in California and I had the second, and after twelve years of constant driving, traveling several hundred thousand miles in the fifteen different autos I have owned without a mishap, I consider it a rather remarkable record.

Well, I'm back in Fresno (the greatest town in the state) again at the same old stand selling furniture, and while I may not be as funny as I used to be, yet I still have a little humor left with which I will endeavor to sell a little furniture now and then. Just remember that I carry the largest line of carpets and rugs shown in the San Joaquin Valley.

Judge Austin yesterday released Charles R. House from the probationary term of two years imposed for the forgery of a check. This was done at the request of Probation Officer Sessions on his report that the parole promises have been lived up to in every respect.

Because of desertion seven years after marriage, Judge Chubb divorced yesterday Mrs. V. B. Lawrence from William F. Lawrence, awarding to her the custody of their infant daughter. They married in Los Angeles in August, 1904, and the desertion is alleged to have occurred in July, 1911, at Coalinga, where she is a teacher of music and he was a barkeeper.

Judge Austin has signed in the estate of Edward Schultz pending since 1906, decree distributing a residue of $3782 cash in shares of two-sevenths to Elizabeth S. House and five-sevenths to his many children, all residents of Germany, who are in New York. The heirs each consented out of their respective shares to allow a sum total equal to two-fifths of the estate in gratitude to the executor for her care of him in his last illness.

The fact that the owners of the same name are also engaged in the same occupation, unfortunately adds to the confusion of identity. This explanation is made in justice to the son of the well known Fresno pioneer.

BOARD OF HEALTH IMPOSSIBLE TO MAKE COMMENDS CITY FREE MARKET

More Sewering Is Suggested to the Board of Trustees

Sanitation of City Reported Good and Dairies in Excellent Condition

To city free market was generally commended last evening at the meeting of the board of health. The directors attending declared it to be a public feature that has long been desired and that it would be a very successful one if the proper steps were taken to make it a success.

The necessity of housing the market in some manner during the winter season suggested on the part of the board that the market in convention hall might be advantageously used for the market during the winter months.

City Health Officer Allen said that he had given the market personal attention since starting, and declared that the food products brought in are of an excellent quality as a general thing.

Meat Inspector Bancroft declared that aside from two cases of chickens that were sent away by him as being unfit for food, he had found "the quality of food stuffs offered in the market of high standard and wholesome," and the market "a very valuable innovation."

SEWERS RECOMMENDED. Upon the report of Sanitary Inspector Ellithorpe, the board recommended to the city trustees the sewerage of blocks 6, 7, 8 and 9 on the west side, blocks 11 and 12 in the southern end of town and in the northeastern of Villa Homestead tract, near Angus north of Belmont.

Reporting on vital statistics, Dr. Aiken listed up for September 37 births of which 34 were males, 65 whites and 2 yellow. Deaths 25, of which 16 were males, 25 whites and 8 yellow. Various diseases reported during the month were 4—diphtheria 2 and scarlet fever 2. The latter were brought into the city from Selma.

Mention was also made of the very severe and fatal case of infantile paralysis developed in the city limits recently, and to this date the one case only satisfactorily proven as such. The state board of health now requires the quarantine of such cases and every precaution against the spreading of this strange disease.

DAIRIES EXCELLENT. Dairies were found on inspection in an excellent condition and all giving careful attention to sanitation as required by health officer's report. The report of the dairies follows:

Hammel bacterial count 15,000, butter fat percentage 4; Japanese 18,000 and 3.3; Calwa 20,000 and 3.8; German 20,000 and 2.8; Barthol 35,000 and 3.3; Thornton 30,000 and 3.3; Gotschbach 35,000 and 3.3; Jersey Farm 22,000 and 3.0; McNella 20,000 and 3.3; Baker 33,000 and 3.3; and Page 24,000 and 3.3.

Inspector Bancroft made report of few instances demanding distinction of unfit foodstuffs, because in most instances meats and other products come up to the quality standard and the dairy products were in fact in very small quantities. The scarcity of summer months' files was also noticed.

COMPLAINTS INVESTIGATED. As regards numerous complaints investigated, the report is that in most instances the complaint is of purely kept garbage cans, permitting an offensive odor to spread. The owners are ignorant of the board's regulation as to the size and use of garbage cans.

Complaints are also made that garbage men refuse to haul along under their contracts with owners, the latter insisting again that the garbage men are not permitted to do such hauling unless provided with liquid tight wagons.

Packaginghouses employing large forces have been inspected and were generally found well kept, wholesome and sanitary. The order to poultry dealers to keep fowl above ground and not in cellars or basements has been complied with after series of notices.

Inspection of 24575 in fees, reported the collection of $4575 in fees, and 63 out of 72 of these complied with.

The schools were generally found in an excellent sanitary condition on inspection before the term commenced.

FOOD PREPARATION TO BE CONSIDERED

Directors of Chamber of Commerce in Regular Session Tonight

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce tonight, "Silver" Dick Warner, who spent two years gathering through Fresno individuals in which people in a food preparation in which raises figured largely, will appear again to bring up another food preparation which he has secured, and which he believes will furnish a big industry for Fresno county. This preparation is made from rye and figs and he hopes to be able to start a factory here.

The Chamber of Commerce has been advised that he will be present and his proposition will be discussed.

M. H. Levick of the Sunset Magazine, who is to gather and write the material for the Fresno county booklet, will in Fresno today and will meet with the directors for the purpose of outlining plans of the work to be undertaken.

A number of other matters of importance are to be considered, according to a statement made yesterday by William Robertson, and it is expected that there will be a full attendance of the board.

Robertson will make a brief report on the county men's convention, held in Los Angeles last week, which he attended.

W. R. Price Returns From Six Weeks Trip Through Eastern States

That it is impossible to forecast the result of the November election was the assertion made yesterday by W. R. Price, cashier of the Union National Bank, who has just returned from a six weeks' tour of the East.

Mr. Price attended the convention of the American Bankers' Association in Detroit and spent some time in Chicago and New York, but about half his time was spent in his former home in Pennsylvania.

As near as he could learn from general observation, he said the feeling in the East seemed to be that Roosevelt was gaining in some places and losing ground in others. The political situation was so mixed up, however, that it was impossible for him to venture any guess as to the result.

"I wouldn't venture a guess on that," he said, "any more than I would venture a guess on a football game."

Business conditions all over the East, he said, he found more prosperous than he had ever before known. Everything in moving under pressure and everyone, he asserted, seemed very much pleased with this situation. The large cereal crops in the Middle West were taken into consideration as playing some part in the general prosperity.

"It doesn't matter which elected," he declared, "business is flourishing and will continue to flourish."

NEVADA COLONY LOTS INVOLVED IN SUIT

Heirs Not in Accord Over Ownership of Vineyard Property

John Weyant brought suit yesterday against Walter Weyant for possession of two vineyard lots in Nevada Colony which the defendant's mother, Louise S. Weyant, owned in January, 1908, subject to $4800 mortgage. Her heirs are not in full accord over the ownership of the property, possession of which passed to the defendant under a sale for $10,000 subject to the mortgage before her death in February, 1910. All the heirs sold to the plaintiff and the estate was a distributed. The defendant, it appears, has paid on the purchase price only $2156.84 up to January, 1910, leaving $7843.16 due in January one year later. John Weyant made tender of the deed for the balance due a few days ago, but the defendant refused to make payment or to vacate hence the suit. T. A. Crow and Mary E. Parsons are made parties defendant in the action claiming interests as judgment debtors.

IN THE LODGE ROOM

MANZANITA CAMP, W. O. W. Four new members were initiated and one elected last night, making a total of eight initiations for the month by the Woodmen of the World.

An excellent and elaborate program is arranged for the cornerstone laying ceremonies which will be held on the 27th of this month. Neighbor Gilroy will deliver the principal address. The superintendents and other officials of the city and county have signified their intention to accept the invitation of this camp and will assist in the ceremonies.

The members will meet at the hall at 2 o'clock and will parade to the new hall at K and Tenth streets.

On the 27th there will be an open meeting and a basket social. All the ladies are expected to bring baskets which will be sold at auction to the highest bidder. Coffee will also be served.

The sick visiting committee reported all members who have been ailing as improving.

Neighbor Ed Jones reported that the foundation of the hall was about completed and the construction of the building will under way.

A feature of the meeting last night was the music by the orchestra, which is playing a drawing card. Messrs. Butler and Scott are working faithfully and with the assistance of the new orchestra. Neighbor Harry White, the moving spirit of the orchestra, reported that he had 12 members now and as 13 is the lucky number of the camp there is no doubt but that the orchestra is sure to succeed. Ed Jones of the camp reported that the Manzanita Camp will be put in the ranks of the big camps by the first of the year.

PACKERS KEEPING UP RAISIN FIGHT

Buyers Say They Are Out To "Get" Certain Local Interests

The fight of the raisin packers to keep the price of raisins as low as possible continues without abatement and with no immediate prospect of improvement in conditions. The leaders in the fight are the same as those who were leading a few weeks ago, Rosenberg Bros., Guggenheim, the Phoenix, of which A. Guggenheim is the head, and one or two other packers.

The fight, however, is taking a new turn, and where some packers turn down goods because they are of poor quality, these packers are ready to buy them up, in the hope of later being the instruments for numerous law suits. Buyers for these firms have openly declared that they will go on the witness stand and testify that the raisins are standard and go further to assert that they are out to "get" several local packing firms.

The East is demanding the raisins but the demoralized condition on the Coast has put a big check in business and as a result, buyers and managers of some of these packing firms who are leading in the fight are making the claim to growers that the East is not anxious to secure raisins and as a consequence they cannot pay high prices.

A large number of rejections are being made at the present time. These rejections are being made by a large number of packers. In a large number of instances where these rejections have been made, buyers for the firms who are trying to keep prices down, have gone out and readily taken and accepted the goods, at much reduced prices.

In many instances growers have admitted that their crops were not up to standard and have asked for a certain amount of relief. In the majority of these cases this has been granted. In other instances, growers have not even attempted to deliver their goods on the contracts, and have asserted that they will not make any attempt to deliver.

EMPIRE SECURES ORPHEUM ACT

In his untiring efforts to secure better and better acts for the Empire, Manager Hesse has outdone all previous efforts this week.

His lucky strike is Francesca Redding & Co., the highest priced act ever played over the Bert Levy Circuit. This act is an Orpheum favorite, a comedy sketch entitled "Hiss-Hiss." This is without doubt the funniest act of this kind that has ever been booked for Fresno and the talented actors of the Redding Company take advantage of every opportunity to make it extraordinarily funny. It is made up of two men and two women, all actors of more than usual ability.

But the entire bill is a good one, better than most vaudeville performances. An attraction that is of much merit and which will particularly please the little ones in Melba's Dogs, a Miniature Canine Circus. Melba has trained these animals to perform all sorts of tricks and the act is an exceptionally good one.

What Frank Merritt is said to be. He is an eccentric comedian, an entertainer who can keep everyone laughing. Some people say he is foolish but they all laugh at him and that is the main thing. Any comedian who can keep people laughing is a success no matter whether he is foolish or not.

There hasn't been a black and white face at the Empire for a long time so Avery and Taylor will remedy this condition this week with a singing and talking act that is said to be one of the best in vaudeville.

LEAVES REAL ESTATE TO HER GRANDCHILD

Ralph G. Wilder died for probate yesterday the will of October 29, 1906, made by Eleanor L. Armstrong, who died at Selma on the 7th last. The will left primarily everything to a grandson of Selma named Clyde A. Todd, he to come into the property when he is 21 years of age, with the benefit of the income after her death. This principal legatee is now 18. A codicil of October 31, 1908, modifies the will to leave the personal property to Cora L. Mitchell, also of Selma. The estate is valued at $3410 mainly in Selma and Belmont Addition lots.

GROUND SQUIRRELS PIE EATING CONTEST READY TO START AT TEAL'S TONIGHT

EASY TO GET RID OF, SAYS LONG

Systematic Destruction of the Pest Continued by Federal Officials

Poisoned Grain Not a Successful Means of Operation

There is unconscious humor in the remark of Dr. John D. Long, made in the "Public Health Report," that the California campaign for the destruction of ground squirrels, by means of poisoned grain, has proved faulty because the "cooperation" of the pests cannot always be obtained. That is to say, the squirrel does not always eat or "pouch" the treated grain.

But Dr. Long reports excellent success with use of carbon bisulphide converted into gas and pumped into the burrows of the animals. The gas is necessarily breathed by them, and is soon fatal. A simple pumping apparatus, designed for the purpose by the Federal Health Service, is employed, and the cost averages only 20 cents an acre, the land infested being gone over twice and practically all the pests destroyed. By means of this pump a gallon of the liquid is sufficient to treat from 200 to 250 squirrel holes.

Systematic ground squirrel destruction is still being carried on in California by the Federal Health Service, because of the persistence of plague infection among the rodents in several counties of the Bay region, although there have been no human cases for a long time.

And in view of the great injury to grain, alfalfa and other crops, and to vineyards and orchards, caused by these pests, no landowner can afford to tolerate such vermin on his premises, when complete ridance of them can be had at slight cost, in the manner described.

The "Public Health Reports" of September 27th, published at Washington, contain a full description and illustrations of the pumping method used, and no expert knowledge is required for its effective application.—Sacramento Bee.

FRESH MEAT OFFERED AT THE FREE MARKET

City Officials More Than Satisfied With Success of Public Mart

Yesterday was another well patronized day at the city free market with fresh meat as the feature and the supply readily disposed of. City Health Officer Alken and Meat Inspector Bancroft passed on the meat and gave their stamp of approval. The meat was sold as fast almost as the two sellers could cut it up according to the demand.

C. C. Clark of Bond avenue had veal to sell for 12 1-2 cents per pound for fore-quarters and 15 cents for hind-quarters, cuts. Frank Phillips of Hughes avenue came on the market with freshly slaughtered hogs and besides the pork meat had head cheese, sausage, ham and lard for sale. He and everyone else were surprised how rapidly he was sold out. The home fried out leaf lard was sold out at 16 cents a pound and one woman took the entire lot.

In view of the hue and cry that has been made over the prices charged at the free market, special watch is being paid this feature and Policeman Bradley in charge on marketing days is even making record of the current prices. His record shows that the headcheese and sausage were sold at 15 cents a pound, ham at 16 cents and the various pork cuts at 12 1-2 cents. "The meat sellers were importuned to attend regularly and had they been so disposed could have taken orders for future filling."

The variety of products at the market is constantly changing and on every market day new faces are in line. Mayor Snow spent several hours at the market making himself acquainted with the new comers and familiarizing himself with the prices being charged. On this score there is apparently no basis for complaint.

Pomegranates were selling at 60 cents a box, musk melons at 5 cents each, green tomatoes 50 cents a box, dried peaches 5 cents a pound, ripe tomatoes 1 cent and 2 cents a pound for small and large, Calimyrna figs 5 cents a pound, coast apples found ready sale at 30 cents a box and mountain apples brought a bulk in two wagon loads one from the Kings river and the other from Sam Mague's mountain ranch on the North Fork 2 1-2 cents a pound, potatoes 2 wagon loads imported from Stockton sold for $1.20 a sack, grapes for 50 cents a box and so on.

One farmer brought for sale ginger bread and he was sold out in no time. Another inquirer called at police headquarters yesterday to ascertain whether he would be permitted to sell home baked pies, mentioning especially squash pie. He was informed that anything in the wholesome home-raised or made food market. This is the theory that is being advanced to encourage the market.

Butter, eggs and dairy products are the things that as yet are not in sufficient supply at the market to meet the very general demand. But these things will right themselves in time and as Mayor Snow stated yesterday after his morning's inspection visit:

"The people are coming out to buy and that is one principal feature. The free market is most satisfactorily working out its own success."

Judge C. E. McLaughlin, of Sacramento, and Mrs. Gertrude Atherton will address a Democratic mass meeting in the Barton Opera House to night at 8 o'clock. All voters are invited.

Worswick Company Expects To Begin This Work on Highway Tomorrow

The Worswick Street Paving Company expects to begin laying cement for the state highway out of Fresno, tomorrow morning, according to an announcement made yesterday. The company has done some rough grading north of the city and has been boring wells and laying line pipe to furnish water for the work. It has taken some time to make these preparations and to get the machinery together, but with the completion of this, it is said that the work will be rushed to completion.

The local highway engineers expect to complete the final survey through the Tejon Pass, into Southern California, in about two weeks. Although the highway commission has not made any definite decision as to the route, and may order a survey of the Tejon route, which is many miles longer, the fact that a complete survey is being made in the Tejon Pass leads to the belief that this route will be chosen.

The highway commission has not in the past ordered surveys of two routes, this division and where there has been doubt as to the route, as was given when Visalia and Hanford were contending for the main line, against the understanding that it was to touch neither town, the survey down the main line of the Southern Pacific was held up. These towns will be reached by branch state roads.

A crew of surveyors is now working from Goshen to Kingsburg and a second crew is working from Delano to Tulare. It is expected that all the surveys will be completed before the first of the year.

COMMITTEES TO BE APPOINTED TODAY

Each member of the special committee will head a sub-committee to make the canvass. The city has been divided into five districts and each of the committees will canvass one district.

ROOSEVELT CAVE MAN, SAYS MRS. ATHERTON

Is Not a National Progressive, But Is the Whole Party, She Finds

(Special to the Republican)
MODESTO, Oct. 15.—Coming almost entirely unheralded to this city Mrs. George Atterton, the noted novelist, delivered an interesting address at a tea given at the home of Mrs. J. H. Atterton, this afternoon, to a large audience.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frank J. Atterton, Mrs. Josephine Atterton and Mrs. Strong, presiding over the musical speaker, presented short talks favoring the Democratic nominees.

The speaker began her speech by an appeal to the voters to cast their vote for the Democratic candidate for congress, calling their attention to the fact that it was essential that Woodrow Wilson when he is elected, would have a strong Democratic house to aid him in forcing through his reform measures.

Referring to the shooting of Roosevelt last night, Mrs. Atterton asked anyone would deny that the whole progressive party movement would have perished if he had been killed.

"The third term party is a one man party," declared the speaker in taking up a discussion of the Roosevelt tendency toward monarchy. She declared that Roosevelt would be helpless to do anything if he were elected as the Democrats and the old line Republicans would tie him hand and foot.

She declared that the leader of the third term party was not Roosevelt himself, but that he had been placed in the position of state legislation.

Mrs. Atterton had little to say of President Taft. Quoting a noted speaker she said that Taft was "an amiable gentleman surrounded by men who knew what they wanted."

Mrs. Atterton severely criticized Roosevelt from the standpoint of his personality and individual tendencies. She declared that he was a case, a case to a primitive type.

The address was closed by a vivid character sketch of Governor Wilson that was probably the most interesting portion of her entire discourse.

Mrs. Atterton was given a reception in the theater following her speech.

NEGROES OF MADERA FIGHT LIKE SHEEP; ONE IS BUTTED OUT

MADERA, Oct. 15.—Ed Robinson, street cleaner, and Harvey Smith, both colored, got into a physical argument this afternoon on P street. In the heat of the discussion, Smith grabbed a pitchfork, but Robinson grabbed him by the throat, and the porter lost interest in the pitchfork and began to struggle for breath. They went at it "rough" fashion, with fists and heads. Robinson, though older than his opponent, was a better fighter, and "butted" and "battered" Smith into unconsciousness. Marshal Northern, who was summoned, took Robinson to jail, while his opponent brought Smith to consciousness.

RESIDENT OF KERNAN WANDERS FROM RANCH

Searching Parties Put In Day Without Finding Any Trace of Him

KERNAN, Oct. 15.—Searching parties are today scouring the Dakota colony and the open country lying to the west of it for trace of Walter Larson, who disappeared from the P. P. Arnold place, where he is employed, Sunday evening. So far the search has proved unsuccessful. The last seen of Larson was when he left the Arnold house shortly after 7 o'clock Sunday night to go to the barn to care for a horse. The fact that he did not return to his own ranch, about two miles distant, or to the house of some neighbor, investigation of Larson's room revealed that the bed had not been disturbed and no clothing was missing.

When Larson left the house Sunday night he was wearing a hat, a coat and was carrying a satchel.

It is feared that Larson was taken suddenly ill Sunday night and becoming delirious, had wandered away through all the vineyards and the hay fields in the neighborhood, but found no one to help him. He is a man of religious habits and never left the Arnold place to go to a neighbor's without informing his employer of his intention.

Suggestions of suicide are scouted, as he is not a man subject to moods. Smith is believed to be in his usual good health and cheerful as to disposition.

The theory that he was taken ill Sunday night and wandered away while delirious is accepted as the probable one. Two miles to the north of the Arnold place, in the San Joaquin river, while to the west are the beds of several sloughs, into any of which Larson might have fallen.

DELIRIOUS PATIENT LEAPS TO DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—The hospital of the army transport Sherman, which arrived here today, occupied by his nurses last Monday, and jumped overboard. As the Sherman rounded Diamond Head, Honolulu, he saw the barracks ashore and exclaiming "I go to go back to the army," leaped to death.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 15.—Secretary of State Knox departed for Portland shortly before noon today. He will address a Republican meeting in Portland tonight and tomorrow will leave for Washington. Reports that Mr. Knox proposed to make campaign speeches in California are unfounded.

WOMAN'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE

Known All Over The World —Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Women who are suffering from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

CHURCH SEEKS PAY FOR SEWER DAMAGE

Clarke, representing the Congregational church, appeared before the council Monday night to urge them to take some action on a bill presented last week in which the church asks for damages in the sum of $200 for a break in the sewer main where it crosses the city property. Sewage seeped into the well which supplies the church gymnasium, swimming tanks and shower baths, causing a complete loss of business from the gymnasium for over three months. This loss amounts to $180, and the cost of the work of pumping out the well was $20, making the total bill for damages $200. The council refused to take any further action than was taken the week previous when a bill was introduced in which the church asked for damages in the sum of $200 for a break in the sewer main where it crosses the city property.

SKELETON IS FOUND BY RANCHER AT OROSI

Human Bones Found Under Six Feet of Earth by Recent Settler

VISALIA, Oct. 15.—Tulare county now has a skeleton mystery the equal of the one which was published some time ago from Fresno county. S. J. Bluebecker, who recently purchased a ranch about six miles east of Oroshi known as the old Fate Johnson place, while digging for stumps, a few days ago, at a depth of six feet, he ran across some human bones which proved to be the skeleton of a man. Indications pointed to the fact that the man had been buried in a sack as the remains were in a position to warrant this belief. No clothing was found nor anything to give any suggestion as to who the man might have been and it is not impossible that it was an Indian. The Indian theory is expounded by the statement, apparently authentic, that Indians always had burying grounds and that they bury the dead, at least in those times, on scaffolds in the air and not in the ground.

The fact that there is no well here, as was the case with the remains that caused such a stir when found in Fresno county, north of Oroshi, naturally leads to the belief that the dead man was actually buried here. A careful examination of the bones has been made to ascertain, if possible, what the death was due to.

Sheriff Collins, Coroner Lacey and Exel Gilliam went out to the ranch Sunday and brought the skeleton back to this city and it is now at the parlors of Mr. Lacey. They found the skeleton of a man. Bluebecker had told them it was piled in a heap as though the man had been placed in a sack and placed in the hole made for him and then the dirt thrown in on top. There was nothing else, not even a scrap of clothing to indicate whether it was a white man or not, nor did the length of time he had been lying under the ground.

It is not probable that these old timers will recollect again the disappearance of someone and it may be proven that the remains unearthed this time are those of the person sought.

DINUBA TELEPHONE MANAGERS CHANGE

Present One Goes to Newman; Manager From Los Angeles Coming; Dinuban Visits Canal Zone

DINUBA, Oct. 15.—A change was made in the management of the local telephone exchange last night. Mcintosh, who has been in charge of the work for the past ten months, will be transferred to Newman. He is succeeded by T. P. Delagay, recently from Los Angeles.

McIntosh and Sutherland of near Fresno have secured an immense gas tractor of 25 horse power and the machine is being fitted up for their large holding east of Oroshi. It will haul two big 2000-pound disc plows to be used in the breaking up of the land preparatory to the breaking up of many hundred acres of orange trees this spring. The machine is something new in the farming line in this section, and it is attracting much attention.

Leonard Bice, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Bice of near here, was taken to Fresno two days ago and there submitted to an operation for appendicitis. The attending physicians, Drs. Cross and Whittington report the affair very successful and the patient doing nicely.

Mrs. A. N. Sharer and Mrs. E. E. Sharer left yesterday morning for Alhambra where they were called by the sudden death of their mother, Mrs. E. C. Weaver.

A letter has been received here by Mrs. J. F. Williams, mother of Clarence Wilson, cashier of the First National bank of Dinuba, who is enjoying a vacation trip in the canal zone, stating that he was traveling within ten miles of the coast of Cuba and would land in a short time at Panama. From Colon he will inspect the work being done by the government and will continue his excursion through the East after his return to the continent. Mr. Wilson writes that he is having a great trip and the weather has remained very pleasant.

The occupants were thrown to the ground and the buggy concerned into a scrap heap. The horse was so badly injured that he had to be shot. Mrs. Zumwalt was the only person injured. He received a light cut on the scalp. Miss Brown escaped without injury as did the driver of the automobile.

Giants Knock Joe Wood Out of Box and Win

"SMOKY JOE" IS SHY OF SMOKE AND NEW YORK WINS; HALL FINISHES GAME; "BIG JEFF" TESREAU IS RIGHT

Boston Batters Fail to Solve Spit Ball and the World Series Now Stands Even; Eighth and Final Game Today at Boston; Both Teams Are Nervous on Eve of Crucial Battle.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—The New York Nationals today administered a crushing defeat to the Boston Americans and won the seventh game of the world's championship series of 1912. The series now stands, Boston 4 games won, New York 3 games won and one contest a tie.

"Smoky Joe" Wood, the Red Sox star pitcher, who had beaten the Giants twice in the series, was sent out to pitch his team into the world's championship. His end was so sudden that thirty thousand spectators sat in silence at Fenway Park as they saw his delivery battered in all parts of the field, and the Giants' players were over the home plate before the last New Yorker was put out in the first inning. The Red Sox never recovered from that first inning and though they pounded away valiantly at Tesreau's moist ball they never came within threatening distance of the Giants.

Manager McGraw gave orders to hit the first ball pitched and with but few exceptions the nine men who batted in the nine innings did their best at the first ball. Charlie Hall, Boston's relief pitcher, was sent to the mound in the second.

Some of the Giant players seemed to think Wood had broken under the strain of his two earlier games. His curve ball had little break to it and the Giants had little trouble hitting his fast ones.

Tesreau held the whip hand throughout the day's game. His moist ball broke sharply over the plate and the Red Sox were unable to fathom his delivery when his would have meant runs. Twelve red legged players were left anchored on the base.

Although McGraw had a commanding lead throughout the game, McGraw kept Mathewson warmed up to relieve Tesreau in case he weakened. After making six runs in the first inning, the Giants scored another tally in the second, two more in the sixth, one in the seventh, and one in the eighth. The Red Sox got their first run in the second inning when Gardner shot a screaming home run into the right field seats, the first circuit drive of the series. Two more runs were scored in the seventh, and another in the eighth by the home club.

Captain Doyle of New York drove out the longest drive of the day. There were seven strike outs in the game. The Red Sox who struck out were Hooper, Tinker, Gardner, Wagner and Cady once each. The game was loosely played in the field, and a game made it difficult for the players to get under fly balls. Tomorrow will tell another story for the Red Sox.

The attendance at today's game was 22,354, while the receipts amounted to $27,198. Of this sum each club received $25,738.20, while the national commission's share is $1,459.80.

Joe Wood was given a hearty reception when he stepped to the mound. His first offering to Devore was called a ball and the next ball pitched was hit to Wagner. The shortstop could not field it in time and Devore was safe on first base. The center and Devore advanced to second. On the first ball pitched Devore and Doyle caught the Red Sox pitcher napping, as they pulled off a double steal. Snodgrass here came to time with a rattling two base hit to right field, and Devore and Doyle came back with New York's first run.

Murray sacrificed, Stahl making the out unassisted. Snodgrass taking third, Merkle then tapper a fly to left field, but the stiff wind carried it toward the infield and the ball fell safe for a single. Snodgrass scored on this play and Merkle took second on the throw. Hooper chopped a grounder to Wood, and Merkle was run down between second and third base. Wagner also getting an assist and Gardner the out. Herzog took second on the play. "Chief" Meyers singled to left field and Herzog scored New York's second run.

FLETCHER POUNDS BALL. Fletcher cracked a single to right and Hooper made a perfect throw to third to head off Meyers, but Gardner dropped the ball, and Meyers was safe and the New York storiotop took second on the throw. The Red Sox, then, the ninth New Yorker to go to the plate in the inning, singled past Wood, and Meyers came home with the fifth run. Fletcher and Tesreau then almost made a double steal. Tesreau was caught at third. There was not much enthusiasm among the Red Sox fans as the Boston team went to bat. Hooper opened by striking out. Yerkes was given a base on balls. TESREAU IS EFFECTIVE.

Speaker put up a fly that was caught by Murray, who was playing left field because of the sun. Devore tried to ring in on an easy out. Herzog to Merkle.

The Giants added another run in their second inning. Hall went in to pitch for Boston and promptly issued a base on balls to Devore, who again stole second on the first ball pitched. Doyle was safe on first base. After the ball bounding over the left field fence Stahl sent through a foul that Devore caught. Wagner sent out a grounder at Tesreau, who was unable to stop up the ball and Fletcher, rushing in, scooped it up and threw the runner out at first. Cady struck out.

MEYERS IS HARD HITTER. Devore, who was standing in left field, Fletcher dropped a grounder in front of Hall and Herzog was forced out at third. Both Meyers and Fletcher took a base on the error.

Hall opened the Red Sox third inning by sending a single toward Wagner. The latter threw while to Tesreau, who covered the bag, and the ball rolled toward the grandstand. Hall going to second on the error. Hooper drove a single toward center and Hall moved down to third. Yerkes struck out. Devore made an air line throw to the plate of the next hit, making a double play.

Joe Wood, pitcher for the Boston Red Sox, has made some sensational plays during the world's series games. In the accompanying picture he is seen attempting to catch a fly ball in the game Wednesday.

First half. Devore was safe on an infield hit which Wagner could not field. Doyle singled to center. Devore was being held at second. Devore and Doyle executed a double steal. Wood's throw to the plate being low, and thus making no attempt to throw either runner. Tesreau and Hooper were on second and first base. The game was loosely played on both sides, three errors being charged against San Francisco and two against Oakland. The San Francisco errors were responsible for the Oakland scores, which were brought in by the Giants' fly out of Lewis' fourth inning. Herzog's grounder to center, which was deflected by Wagner, who then tossed it to Gardner, who touched out Merkle, led on the line. Herzog took second on the play, when he scored on Meyers' single to left. Fletcher got a single to right, Meyers taking third when Gardner dropped Hooper's perfect throw. Fletcher went to second on the play. Meyers scored on an infield hit by Tesreau. Fletcher scored on a delayed steal. Tesreau was out at second after Fletcher had scored, the play being Cady to Yerkes to Stahl to Wagner. A sharp wind storm was in progress in the second half of the game, the last blowing around the infield. Six runs, seven hits, one error.

Second half. Hooper struck out. Yerkes walked. Speaker flew out to Murray. Lewis on hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING. First half. Hall went into box for Boston. Devore walked. Devore stole second. Cady's throw was wide. Doyle walked. Devore was caught off second by a quick throw. Snodgrass singled to left. Doyle took second. Doyle scored when Hall threw wildly to catch him napping at second. The ball went into center field. Snodgrass taking third. Murray fled out. Merkle out. Wagner to Stahl. One run, one hit, one error.

Second half. Gardner scored a long home run drive behind the center field fence. It was the first home run of the series. Stahl sent a high foul to Meyers. Fletcher threw out Wagner after Tesreau had knocked down the ball. Cady struck out. One run, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNING. First half. Herzog singled to center. Meyers singled to left. Herzog going to second. Herzog was forced at third, when Yerkes grounded out. Herzog and three to Gardner. Tesreau was thrown out at first. Hall to Stahl. Meyers took third and Fletcher second on the play. Devore fled to Hooper. It was a pretty catch. No runs, two hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING. First half. Doyle went out on a grounder to Stahl, unassisted. Snodgrass sent up a high fly to Wagner. Murray was out when his grounder was deflected by Hall to Yerkes, who threw to Stahl. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second half. Lewis sent a fly to Devore. Gardner was hit by a pitched ball. Stahl singled to left. Gardner going to second. Stahl was forced at second when Doyle took Wagner's grounder and tossed it to Fletcher. Gardner went to third on the play. Tesreau threw out Cady at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—San Francisco batters hit the Red Sox hard and took the first game today of the series against Oakland in a score of 4 to 2. Ables, who won the game, was charged, allowed five runs and ten hits in seven innings. He was replaced by Christian, who allowed two runs and two hits in the eighth and ninth.

The game was loosely played on both sides, three errors being charged against San Francisco and two against Oakland. The San Francisco errors were responsible for the Oakland scores, which were brought in by the Giants' fly out of Lewis' fourth inning. Herzog's grounder to center, which was deflected by Wagner, who then tossed it to Gardner, who touched out Merkle, led on the line. Herzog took second on the play, when he scored on Meyers' single to left. Fletcher got a single to right, Meyers taking third when Gardner dropped Hooper's perfect throw. Fletcher went to second on the play. Meyers scored on an infield hit by Tesreau. Fletcher scored on a delayed steal. Tesreau was out at second after Fletcher had scored, the play being Cady to Yerkes to Stahl to Wagner. A sharp wind storm was in progress in the second half of the game, the last blowing around the infield. Six runs, seven hits, one error.

TIGERS TAKE GAME FROM LAW MAKERS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—Bayless' home run with two men on bases in the third inning, combined with daring base stealing by the visitors, enabled the Vernon Tigers to make nine hits, good for seven runs and a 7 to 4 victory. In the first inning, with the bases filled and one out, Lewis drove a liner directly at Litch, who held the ball and completed a double play. Again in the third with none out and a man on second, Van Buren drove a liner at Brashear, who doubled up the runner, when a difference of two feet in the glove of the run would have meant a hit and a run.

FRESNO RUGBY PLAYERS TO MEET HANFORD TEAM

A game is scheduled for Fresno Saturday, between the Fresno team and Hanford. Although the Fresno rugby team was defeated in the game played with Dinuba, Coach Dalton says that the game was excellent practice for the squad, as many of the players had never been in a rugby game before. The team now had a good idea of how the game should be played and should be a better team in the game with Hanford. Dalton is doing his best to put out a good team, but is handicapped by having different men out every night.

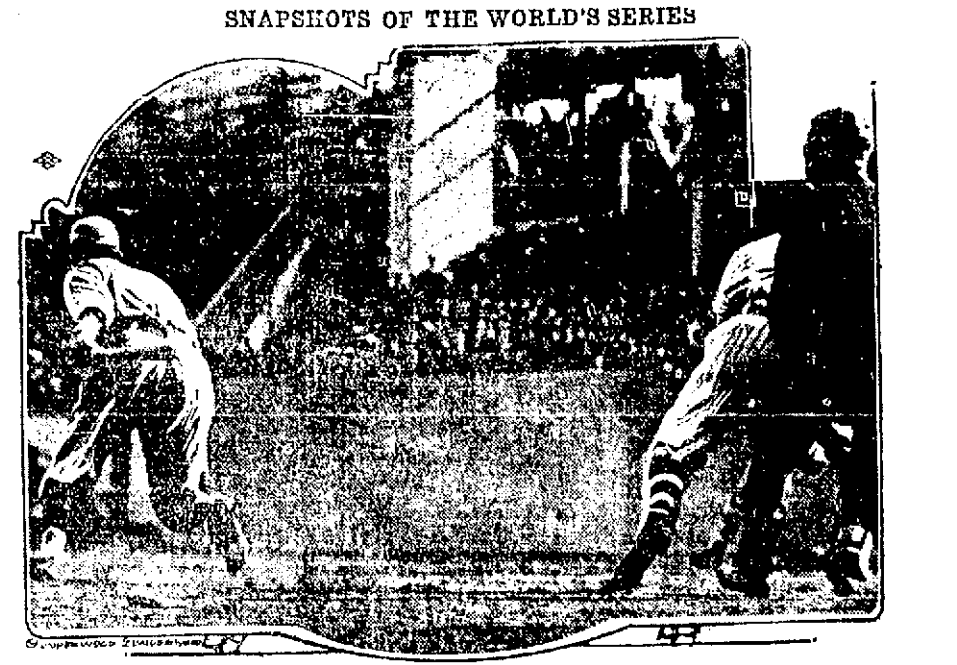

A football rally was held last night. J. W. Warner and Coach Dalton addressed the audience on matters pertaining to athletics and on football especially. After the rally, new football sweaters were distributed to the players and they certainly added to the appearance of the team. New players are coming out almost every night and if the procession continues, there should be enough material for a first and second team.

Tesreau to Merkle. No runs, no hits, no errors.

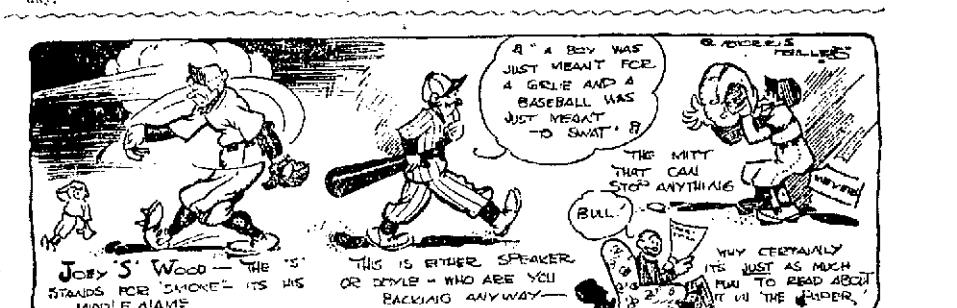

EDDIE TAPLIN PROUD FATHER OF BABY GIRL

Eddie Taplin, the Fresno jockey, is the proud father of a big baby girl, and wears the smile that won't come off. He was married about two years ago to a beautiful Southern belle and is now receiving the congratulations of all his many friends. Taplin is at present riding at Salt Lake and is considered one of the leading jockeys in America. He made his start at the local fair grounds, going from here to Emeryville, where he brought in a large number of winners. The rider made his reputation at Jurvet and Emeryville and has been in the limelight ever since. Eddie's record during the present season has been exceptionally good, the knight of the saddle having pulled down a great number of winners. The jockey draws down $18,000 a year, which is doing fairly well for a young man in his age.

The baby girl arrived yesterday at Salt Lake.

Steve Yerkes, second sacker for the Boston Red Sox, has made some sensational plays during the world's series games. In the accompanying picture he is seen attempting to catch a fly ball in the game Wednesday.

JACK JOHNSON MAY SIGN FOR BATTLES

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—A hitch in the negotiations between Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion of the world, and W. J. J. Kelly, Van McIntosh's Australian representative, developed today and delayed the signing of the articles of agreement for Johnson's fights with Sam Langford and Sam McVey in the Antipodes.

It is said Johnson insists that a $15,000 forfeit be posted by McIntosh in this country, instead of with a newspaper in Sydney, before the champion sails. All other details of the matches were agreed upon, it is said.

Johnson said tonight he had received a message from Kelly, who is in Milwaukee, to the effect that the dispute over the forfeit would be adjusted in a few days.

HARTING SAYS AL KAUFMAN IS GONE

George Harting, the veteran tiger of prize fights, and one of the most popular traveling salesmen in the United States, flew into town last night from Sacramento. Harting is the best known line of prize fighters in the world, having been affiliated with the match at the ring side for the past thirty-two years without a vacation. His most recent fight was Saturday at San Francisco between Luther McCarty, the latest white hope, and Al Kaufman, the human ice wagon. Harting said that Kaufman was a tough and skillful fighter with his head. He looked like an old man when he climbed through the ropes. Harting says McCarty is a tough youngster with a strong punch, but like most of the present day fighters is learning to fight before he learns to box.

The big fight of the year will be staged by Sunny Jim Coffey on Thanksgiving Day, according to Harting, and the young white hopes will be Frankie Burns, the former Fresno boy, with a kick in both mits, and Willie Ritchie, the boy who beat Champion Sam Barua in four rounds. Harting says Barua is a clever boy and a good boxer who does not telegraph his blows.

Harting believes Burns, Ritchie or Mandot can take the measure of Volgast, who has lost his stamina. According to Harting, Volgast's stamina was his chief asset when he beat Pat Nelson at Richmond a few years ago. Now the little Dutchman is weak and little of his old-time vitality is apparent on the surface. Of the small men, Harting says Johnny Kilbane, the Cleveland boy who whipped Al Attell, is in a class by himself.

METCALF TRAVELS FAST ON BICYCLE

The Visalia Delta says the following about a bicycle trip down the valley: George Fresno Metcalf, formerly of this city and now of Fresno, who is considered one of the best men in this part of the country on a bicycle, lowered all speed records from Fresno to Visalia on a bicycle Sunday on roads in the state. Young Metcalf left Fresno at noon and reached Visalia at 4:30, after stopping fully one hour at such places as Kingsburg, Traver, Goshen Junction. His bicycle came through the entire distance without a mishap of any kind, although the road was so dusty in places that his feet actually dragged the dirt. He stopped with Mr. E. N. Robie and returned to Fresno in the evening by train.

ANGELS TAKE GAME FROM BEAVER TEAM

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15.—Portland dropped the first game of the series to Los Angeles today, after getting away to a good lead in the opening innings. The players each posted a side bet of $100 with Allen and Binford, last night, making a total of $200 that will go to the winner in the match, which will be for $250 points. The game is scheduled for 9 a. m. sharp, and there will probably be a large crowd on hand to witness the exhibition. If Thurman wins tonight, and also takes the next contest for the title, he will retain permanently the silver cup that has been donated by the Brunswick-Balke-Whitcomb Company, through their local agent, Harry Hill. No admission will be charged. The amateur championship of the valley is involved.

DUCK HUNTERS GO OUT AFTER BIRDS

The duck season opened yesterday and although the birds are not yet plentiful, because of the dryness of the season, some of the sportsmen went out yesterday. After one or two rains have soaked the ground and formed pools, the birds will be thicker in this vicinity. According to reports, most of the birds have deserted the local feeding grounds, and gone to Tulare Lake and to the San Francisco Bay regions. Many of the hunters that were unable to get out yesterday, are preparing to invade the fields on Sunday and during the following week.

VALUE OF $486,796

ESTATE

Appraisers Render Report;
$267,776 Cash in Hands of Executors

First National Bank Stock
Valued at $84,975;
Other Holdings

The estate of the late W. J. Dickey is valued at $486,796.33, according to the report of the appraisers which was placed on file with the county clerk yesterday. The appraisers were W. A. Deigh, O. J. Woodward and M. M. Deigh, who acted as inheritance tax appraisers.

More than one-half of the estate is in cash. The report shows that the executors have $267,776.33 in cash. The next item in point of value is the interest which Dickey held in the First National Bank of Fresno. He held 110 shares of stock in the bank upon which the appraisers placed a valuation of $155 a share or $17,050.

Dickey also held 130 shares of stock in the People's Savings Bank of Fresno, upon which a value of $125 a share or $16,250 was placed. He held ten shares of stock in the First National Bank of Fowler, valued at $190 a share or $1,900, and twenty shares of stock in the First National Bank of Dinuba valued at $100 a share, or $2,000.

Among the larger interests of his estate were 130 shares of stock in the Fresno County Land Company, valued at $24 a share, or $3,120. He also held thirty-six San Jose and Alum Rock Railway gold bonds, valued at $19,000.

Among his real holdings were two pieces of property in the city of Fresno. One was the home place, at the corner of L and San Joaquin streets, valued at $2,000, and the other was a lot on G street, upon which a contract of sale is held by another party.

He held four pieces of county real estate, the total value of which was placed at $26,000.

The balance of the estate consists of stock in three oil companies, ten shares of stock in the Fresno Home Insurance Company, valued at $3300, United States gold bonds at $500 and several promissory notes. The largest of these is a note of the Fresno Home Packing Company for $11,000, upon which $6,000 is due.

MEN UNITE TO FIGHT GAMBLING

Brotherhood Union To Lead
Attack on Racetrack
Amendment

An active campaign is to be waged in Fresno against the proposed legislation to legalize gambling in this state. This was decided last night at a meeting called for the purpose of organizing the men of different churches along lines of work common to all, and which meeting was held in the parlors of the Presbyterian church.

About thirty men assembled and after the object of the meeting had been stated by J. R. Hickman, it was unanimously decided to organize permanently.

A committee on organization and constitution consisting of S. L. Strother, W. A. Conn and William Glass was appointed and reported the following in substance, which was unanimously adopted:

The name of the organization is to be the Brotherhood of Men of Fresno. Its object shall be to promote the religious, moral, intellectual and civic welfare of the community. Any man shall be eligible to membership who belongs to any organization existing for the forwarding of any of the above objects.

This makes not only members of the various church brotherhoods eligible, but also all who are connected with fraternal, ethical, educational or civic bodies may join if they wish.

J. R. Hickman was elected president, R. T. Hall, vice president, A. D. Evans, secretary-treasurer. There was considerable discussion in regard to the proposed law to make gambling legal. It was pointed out that whereas the law purports in its first line to "prohibit race-track gambling, etc." it really goes on to permit several and various kinds of betting and gambling games.

It was moved and unanimously carried that the Brotherhood Union will make it the first work of its existence to oppose the adoption of the proposed law.

The next meeting of the Brotherhood Union will be held Tuesday evening of next week.

REPUBLICANS OPEN

W. F. Chandler and Chester
H. Rowell Speakers
at Meeting

Tell of Need for Supporting Johnson and Purpose of Progressives

The Republican campaign in Fresno county, for Theodore Roosevelt and William W. Johnson, was formally opened last night at Easton hall. The hall was well filled and much interest was shown.

The principal speakers of the evening were W. F. Chandler, Republican nominee for the assembly in the 10th district, and Chester H. Rowell, Judge H. K. Briggs, Judge Austin and George L. Warner, candidates for the superior court, also made brief talks.

Chandler described a number of the incidents at the two Chicago conventions this summer but devoted his time largely to outlining the legislation needed. He also emphasized the necessity of supporting William Johnson in his effort to better conditions in California.

Chandler related the history of the "country caucus" at the last special session of the legislature and said he thought it was going to be necessary to devise some means of apportionment whereby the senators would not be required to "sit on their own case."

Chester H. Rowell described the revolution that has taken place in the past four years in California and its relation to the new era opening in national politics.

Four years ago, at the Republican national convention, the California delegation, he said, cast the deciding vote that prevented the Republican convention this year from being a representative convention. This year the California delegation took the leading part in the opening of the new progressive era.

"California, by being wrong then and right now, has played a very important part," he added.

He said the purpose of the present Progressive movement is to make a reality of Lincoln's saying, "Of the people, by the people and for the people."

The Progressive movement plans to make this a government of the people by making it a government which no man can be big enough to defy and in which no man will be small enough not to have full protection.

It proposes to make this a government by the people, he said, by putting the machine of government directly into their hands and it proposes to make it a government for the people by laying emphasis on human rights and not on property advantages.

Appellate Court Decides
Against Raised City
Assessment of 1909

Sum of $20,000 Went Into City Coffers — Plan Appeal to Supreme Court

According to a Sacramento news dispatch the third Appellate Court handed down a decision yesterday afternoon in the judgment of Judge Church in the appeal of the city in the case of M. T. Madore against the city of Fresno and County Treasurer Hurlbut for the return of excess city taxes paid under the State Board of Equalization's raise of 20 per cent on the county assessment roll in 1909.

The suit for the return of excess tax money paid under protest involved $1657 with interest, the complaint filed in October, 1910, and judgment rendered against the city in February, 1911.

The suit involved $2 individual signed claims, that of the plaintiff being for an excess of $439 on a first installment tax payment of $439, and a second of $1236. The city taxable property for the year was $11,055,314, producing a revenue equal to $125,332.50, and on these valuations the raise of 20 per cent was ordered by the state board.

A blanket claim for excess taxes paid by the individuals represented in the suit was made upon the trustees, but rejected. Involved in the 20 per cent raise against the city was about $20,000 in all, but many made no objection to the payment of the excess and only those in the suit made payments under protest that they might have standing in court.

The controversy in the case hinged on whether the city taxes in 1909 should have been calculated upon the valuation established by the county assessor and equalized by the county board, or upon the 20 per cent higher valuation after the state board raised the assessor's figures except as to money and solvent credits.

Judge Church held the second assessment to be invalid and from this decision appeal was taken. It is understood that the city will ask for a rehearing in the case before the Supreme Court. In the case appeared for the plaintiff M. T. Madore and M. M. Deigh, and for the defendants Former City Attorney Frank Kaule.

For a time an amount of money was held in the treasury covering the sum asked for in judgment, but with the stress of urgent demands the reserved money has been used since for other urgent purposes. If ever the case goes to a final judgment after the rehearing on appeal, the city will have to meet the money from some source to meet the judgment claim.

Judge Church held in his decision that as to the city any change in the assessed valuation by the state board must have one of two effects equally intolerable. Either by a lowering to deprive the city government of necessary funds, or by a raising to give it what it neither asks or needs, "thereby unjustly adding to the burdens of its citizens."

And in his conclusion on objections and damages to the tax payer, said the opinion, "could be justified only by the plainest provisions of the statute. Not only are there no such plain provisions but the entire spirit of the law negatives such conclusion."

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS RESIDENTS AROUSED

Straw Vote To Be Taken to Find Out Sentiment
On Annexation

Within the next few days another straw vote will be taken in Arlington Heights to determine the sentiment in regard to the coming annexation election. The date of the election is November, as fixed by the board of city trustees, and between now and that date members of the Arlington Heights Improvement Club will conduct a vigorous campaign in behalf of annexation.

E. A. Sweet, president of the club, is in favor of annexation and it is stated that the majority of the residents on the "hill" are of the same opinion.

Last fall a straw vote was taken and those opposed to annexation were in the majority. Last spring a second poll showed the count about even, with the annexationists gaining ground.

President Sweet will begin another campaign in a few days to ascertain the sentiment, and the straw vote will be taken in every part of the district affected by the election. Men will be sent out to ascertain the number of people who have registered. Sweet stated yesterday that he believes the residents will vote in favor of annexation by a good sized majority.

Sutherland, Republican nominee for the assembly from the first district, will also deliver an address. This will be Sutherland's first public appearance in this campaign.

Charles E. Wheeler and Philip S. Bancroft were the two California delegates who were thrown out of the Republican convention in Chicago last June, and Wheeler heads the Republican electoral ticket in California.

On the same night, at Barstow Colony, W. F. Chandler, Democratic nominee for the assembly from the fifth district, and H. E. Barbour will address the voters.

The Republicans will hold two county meetings on Saturday night. W. F. Chandler and Chester H. Rowell will address a big meeting to be held at Rollins, and L. B. REMOVE OLEANDER CHOWCHILLA RANCH
P.O. TO BOWLES;
BIG PROTEST

Change To Take Place On
First of November,
Says Notice

Resolutions of Protest Are Passed; Investigation
Is Urged

The postoffice for the Washington County district is about to move for the third time since it was established about 20 years ago. The latest move will be from Oleander to Bowles, according to notices received by patrons yesterday.

These notices, from Fred Elliott, postmaster at Bowles, informed the patrons that after November 1, their mail would be delivered at the postoffice at Bowles. Immediately upon receipt of these notices, the Oleander people decided upon action and at a mass meeting held last night, resolutions protesting against the change in the location of the postoffice were passed and will be forwarded to Washington. It was also announced that hundreds of letters will be sent, urging the postal authorities to make an investigation.

The Oleander people assert that no reason has been given for the change and believe that misrepresentations were made to the postoffice department, as to the office. About a month ago, R. L. Taylor, postmaster at Oleander, removed to Bowles, to make his residence. He moved into a shack, by the side of the road, has been used as a postoffice since he left, although it is stated that another party is planning to start a store and that several applications have been made for the position of postmaster. Taylor was not present at the meeting last night.

The Oleander postoffice has about 300 patrons, according to statements made last night, and supports two rural routes. Under the order from the postmaster at Bowles, the rural routes will come out of Bowles.

When the postoffice department decided to give service to the Washington County district, many years ago, the postoffice was established at Easton. It was moved to Oleander when the Santa Fe was built and now that another town has been started, it is to be discontinued altogether and combined with the Bowles postoffice. Bowles already has a postoffice.

Festivities at Townsite on Tract of 108,000 Acres
Attended by 5,000

Madera and Merced Deserted; Autos Carry Visitors
Over Big Tract

Five thousand people from all parts of the San Joaquin valley attended the grand opening of the Chowchilla tract of 108,000 acres and the townsite of Chowchilla yesterday. Over 2000 went from Fresno and vicinity in a special train of five coaches over the Southern Pacific. The cities of Madera, Merced, Modesto, Turlock, Los Gatos and Lodi were practically deserted. From Madera a special train of eight coaches attended the festivities and the celebration was a great success.

The barbecue and roping and tying contests were keenly enjoyed and hundreds of automobiles from all parts of Madera county took their loads of people to participate in the festivities. The brass bands of Merced and Madera were in attendance and concerts were given in the open air from early in the morning until a late hour last night. A huge dancing platform had been erected and the smooth floor was crowded with couples all day and until midnight, the two bands alternating in furnishing the music.

ALL TRAINS STOPPED.

The first trains arrived at the townsite, which is midway between Madera and Merced on the main line of the Southern Pacific, at 9 o'clock, and from that hour until noon every regular train brought its quota of people from all sections of the valley. The excursions from Fresno and Madera were conducted by J. E. Tester, one of the managers of the company, and W. E. Bush, president of the Chowchilla tract. Mr. Bush made the trip by automobile.

ALL MADERS THERE.

The attendance from Madera city alone was over 2,000, and every store closed its doors and the occasion was made a general holiday. In Merced the same condition existed and nearly 1,000 went to Chowchilla. The management had arranged with the Southern Pacific for special trains from north and south and every regular train stopped at the townsite. Visitors were met at the new station by a reception committee which had to convey the guests over the big tract of 108,000 acres in Madera and Merced counties.

ONE BUILDING IN TOWN.

The only business structure in the townsite is the office, building of the Chowchilla Land and Townsite company, which is a branch firm of the United States Farm Land company. The offices were thronged from early morning until late at night with interested people and several dozen lots in the townsite were sold. The big tract is now on the disposal of the Chowchilla tract, which is a platform near the bandstand. O. A. Robertson, president of the United States Farm Land company, made the address of welcome and greetings were extended by R. L. Hargrove and Raleigh E. Rhodes in behalf of the Chowchilla tract.

For the evening the Chowchilla tract, officers of the land and townsite company, who told the visitors to make themselves at home during their stay in Chowchilla. The closing address was made by D. S. Church, Democratic nominee for congress in this district. Church spoke briefly and referred to the rapid growth of the San Joaquin Valley.

BARBECUE BIG SUCCESS.

All of the speeches were applauded vigorously and the two bands rendered selections as part of the program. The barbecue was the big feature, long tables having been arranged around an entire block in the business section of the townsite. The roasted meat was served on big tin and paper plates with Spanish beans and other food such as bread, butter, milk, coffee and cream. It is said to have been one of the largest and most successful barbecues ever held in the West. Before and after the barbecue hundreds of people were taken on auto rides to all parts of the big tract. The Chowchilla tract is one of the state.

In the sporting contests, Happy Jack and his company of cowboys and cowgirls from Fresno carried off most of the honors and also the cash prizes. "Wild West," which is the name of a cowboy on the Chowchilla ranch, was the first prize in the roping and tying contests. Happy Jack took the second prize and members of his company carried off the remainder of the prizes. The broncho busting and roping and tying contests were held in a large corral, which covered a whole business block. Happy Jack had his famous bucking bull, Shrikey, on hand.

A second barbecue was held last evening for those who remained for the dance, music for which was furnished by the Madera band. There was an abundance of food and nobody left the ranch hungry.

NIGHT SCHOOL HAS
STUDENTS FROM 9
FOREIGN NATIONS

Evening Classes Prove Popular; C. L. McLane Is Temporary Teacher

Many nationalities and representation at the night school which has been inaugurated this week at the Washington Grammar school building with an initial enrollment of 35 students. In a single class of English, presided over by City School Superintendent C. L. McLane last evening in lieu of an assistant teacher to R. O. Price, vice-principal of the Hawthorne, who has charge of the evening school, there were found scholars of the following nations: Austria, Mexico, Japan, Germany, Italy, Bulgaria, Turkey, Sweden and Denmark. Several could scarcely speak any English, while others more advanced laboriously spelled out words of one or two syllables.

The night school has met with a good deal of popularity and the enrollment on the second evening increased by four. More are expected to join during the week until the total number of students will be about 50. Already there are enough for three teachers who are to be assigned shortly. Mr. Price will have charge of one class and it is probable that substitute teachers may be provided upon to teach the remaining two classes. At present the classes are divided into two. As no teacher for one division had been secured last evening, Superintendent McLane undertook the duty of guiding its first steps in the rudiments of the English language.

The classes will finally be divided so that the first will consist of those who know little or no English and are attempting to master the language, the second of those who can talk English but are in need of a grammar school education, and the third of those more advanced who may take up higher subjects and commercial studies.

The night school meets at 7 o'clock five evenings in the week, and closes at 9 o'clock.
